

Your Proper Asian Dating (and Fucking) Guide

What if I told you that you could uproot your mediocre life, take it to Asia, and fuck as many hot girls as you could handle? What if I told you that you can have ALL of your needs met by feminine women that don't treat you like shit? What if this was cheaper than your life back home? Well let me tell you then...you're making a HUGE mistake if you're not already in Asia, as I'm sure those of you already in Asia will agree completely.

“But wait...who the hell is this guy to give me advice on my sex life, relationships, and finances?”

Alright I'll give you some background on myself. My name is Dave – I'll just leave it at that since my site has been under attack multiple times by the crazy feminists of the Western world. That's a story for another day though.

I'm from Charlotte, North Carolina. I'm 52 years old and have been living in Asia since 2005. I was a small business owner and married to one of those nagging feminist women back in North Carolina. I had a friend that had been to Thailand while he was in the military. He used to tell me stories about how great the girls were, how he hated the food (he's crazy, it's fucking delicious), and how cheap everything was.

The part about the girls really spiked my interest. You see, I was struggling with a nagging wife that always held out on me when it came to sex. She had let herself go in so many ways that I wasn't even attracted to her anymore. My life was shitty.

So I started putting together my escape plan. I started lining everything up to go to Thailand. The first step was to get a divorce. I started planning that out, said fuck it, and went to a divorce attorney the next day. Got everything lined up and was out of there. It was messy and time consuming but what a relief!

Being a single man for a year in the States was a HUGE hassle. All of the women were so cold and rude. It didn't help that I was super rusty and my game was pretty bad. I never knew how hard it was to find sex as a middle aged man. I started Googling "how to meet women" but most of the advice out there was manipulative, cheesy or just flat out didn't work. Fortunately, after weeks of searching, I stumbled upon something that actually did help me get some dates with women. I can definitely vouch for it, so if you want, you can check it out here:

Spark Sexual Chemistry And Get Women Hooked On You

This helped me get some dates, but the problem was that after going on a few dates and experiencing the attitudes of young American women, I was even more ready to get to Asia.

Next up was the big move. Having never actually been to Asia, it was a bit scary. Would I have friends? Were the girls as easy as I had read online? Was my friend right about how cheap it was? You have to remember, there wasn't very much information out there about this kind of thing in 2005.

Long story short (well, being cut short now), is that I now live in Thailand and have spent a lot of time in most of the other Asian countries – mainly South East Asia. The women are amazing. The food is great. The days are warm and easy. I have many like-minded friends. I have sex anytime I want and I have a new wife that likes to take care of me. She doesn't even mind if I fuck other girls I meet online or head to the hooker bars every now and then. What's not to love?

So why am I qualified to give advice on dating and living in Asia?

I've been there. I understand any issue you may have. I get you. I WAS you. I created a way and made my journey to Asia for a better life and I'm here to help you accomplish the same thing. If you're already in Asia, you'll enjoy the hell out of the tips that will be shared below.

Meeting Asian Women Online

Meeting women online in South East Asia is soooooo much easier than it is in any western country, trust me on this! In the U.S., I had almost zero luck meeting women online. As soon as I joined my first paid online Asian site I started getting messages. That's right, they were messaging ME first. What a difference.

You see Asian women love foreigners. It's a status thing. I've even had women ask if I will get them pregnant so they could have a mixed baby. I, of course, declined.

If you are coming to Asia I recommend picking a good paid site (most free sites are full of scams and fake profiles) and start "pipelining." Pipelining is when you are in your home country but you subscribe to a dating site of the country you plan to visit and start sending messages before you arrive. This way, when you set your feet on that sweet Asian soil you will already have dates lined up. In fact, many of my friends get girls they met online to pick them up from the Airport and go straight to their hotel. Yes, my friend, Asia is the promised land for white guys who want to have "fun." Visit www.AsianSexpats.com to see my reviews on various dating sites in Asia, and which ones I recommend.

If you are horrible at online dating, like I was, then I recommend getting a little help with it. Trust me it makes a big difference. They will show you exactly how to set your profile up, which pics to use and what kind of messages to send out. I've actually hired them to take over my profiles and send and reply to messages for me. Yep, they set up dates for me! I do this partially because my wife would get a little annoyed if I was scouring the internet for chicks all day long. And, partially because they do a fantastic job at it. Fuck Hookers For Free

This section has been questioned by a lot of people and has piqued the most interest. Why would a hooker, that relies on income from sex, fuck you for free? There are many different reasons for this. They could actually want to have sex with you because she thinks you're attractive; they might see you as a rich guy and want to develop a relationship with you; or it could be late and they want a free place to stay for the night.

Scenario 1

So let's say you're a handsome devil and go out to enjoy yourself and find someone to take home – a standard night in my book. You can walk out with a hooker for free a decent percentage of the time. These girls have to have sex with people you wouldn't even want to shake hands with. I'm talking about 75 years old, wrinkly, overweight, and smell like they haven't showered in a week. Every once in a while, these girls want to have sex with someone that they're interested in. A lot of them are actually attracted to foreigners so if you're decent looking and charismatic (even in the slightest), they will offer to go home with you for free sometimes.

Scenario 2

Next scenario is that the girl likes you for whatever reason, and she also thinks you're rich. These girls find the good in just about everyone – it's ridiculous, so don't worry about this part very much. As long as you're nice and not rude you'll qualify for the girl liking you. She also has to think you're rich. How do you project that? How do you convince them that you're rich? I suggest wearing a watch, proper shoes, and wearing pants instead of shorts. On top of how you dress, you should be respectful and don't act like all of the other crazy assholes that go to these types of bars. A decent percentage of the time, you can fuck these girls for free if they think you're rich because they want to develop a relationship with you. Their lives are pretty shitty for the most part and they're only doing their "job" for the money. If they can get a nice, rich, Western husband – then they can just stay at home and watch TV all day (hookers favorite past-time) and take care of you, and only you. This is a much better situation than having to fuck a bunch of gross old men that treat them like shit everyday. Try this one, it works a lot and goes hand-in-hand with Scenario 1. Dressing well and acting respectful makes you more attractive. It's science!

Scenario 3

This is all about timing. Follow the previous two scenarios and that will help you here as well. A lot of these girls like to drink and stay out late unless they go home with someone for a "long-time". What I like to do is show up two hours before the hooker bars close (time depends on city/country). You can hang around and build rapport with the girls while having a drink of your choice. After rapport is built ask the girl(s) you're interested in questions about their personal life. A lot of times you can figure out if they are staying with friends, family, shared hooker homes, etc. so just dig a little. Since these girls stay at guys houses a lot, it's common that they won't have a place of their own or a normal bed to sleep in. If the hooker's home is filled up that night they might mention that. Or if they don't have a place of your own you can offer your bed or couch for the night. This is easy to do if all of the steps here are combined. You're nice, dressed well, and hopefully somewhat handsome so why wouldn't they stay with you when you're the best option they have. It's a much better option for them than to pay for a hotel for the night.

One more thing to consider here is that a lot of these girls go out to clubs after their shift is over so that they can find a customer, or at the very least, somewhere to stay. Go check out these clubs. They give you the best opportunity to take a girl home without having to pay barfines, or a lot of times, even having to pay them!

If this scenario isn't for you, that's fine. I get it. I did this for a short period of time and some of my mates (you pick up words like this while living abroad no matter where you're from) have done this for a longer period of time. So we'll move on to the next section so you can find you a good girl.

Find > Fuck > Date > And Settle Down With A Good Girl

All of the information provided here is a mix of my experience and what I learned from Triggering Sexual Tension, not just some made up BS that you would usually find on the internet. Asian women are much different than girls in the West but you probably already knew that. These girls are sweet, homely, and know how to take care of their man in every way. The main thing you have to understand here is that, 1) it's almost impossible to get "friend stamped" and 2) you should be nice to these girls.

In the West you have to try not to get friend stamped and try to seem like an alpha male. You should avoid this for the most part with a majority of the girls in Asia because they don't have a macho culture. It's usually a big turnoff to them if you try to be the center of attention or if you act too cocky. Remember that you already stand out and that all you really need to do is make friends with a girl that you like. I'll say that one more time for emphasis – MAKE FRIENDS with girls you're interested in.

After you've made friends with them just casually try to get them to hang out. Don't call them your friend, but you can definitely hide your intentions because they aren't going to friend stamp you. For a majority of these girls, sex just isn't that big of a deal if they like you.

After exchanging messages back and forth for a bit you need to set up an evening to take them out. This night out is the second important piece to the puzzle. You have to take them to three separate locations over the course of the night. This means something like dinner and a drink at one place, move to another venue for one more drink, and then on to one more place that she just HAS to check out. The purpose of this is to make them feel like they've known you longer by being with you in so many different places. Three is usually the magic number here in psychology.

While you're on these dates don't forget to subtly touch her to break the touch barrier so she won't feel weird later on when you go for the kill. This may prove difficult because of the culture in most Asian countries so you have to do it very subtly. For example, just touch her shoulder when you say something. This works best when you make a joke about something so it seems light hearted. And make sure you're smiling. Another great way to break the touch barrier is to direct her while walking or act like you're protecting her from running into someone. It's quite easy to do by just touching her back or side and kind of guiding her. Another great takeaway here is that the last place you go on the date should be very close to your apartment or hotel.

The best way I've found to do this is to book a hotel or apartment that has a bar. There are tons of places like this in big cities for reasonable rates. A perfect example of this is when I was living in Chiang Mai, Thailand. There was a bar and pool on the roof of my apartment for only $500/mo. After you take a girl up to the roof and you're on the way back down in the elevator, you just hit your floor number instead of the bottom floor and head to your room with them. The girl usually won't say anything but if she does just tell them you want to show her something in your room. You can make anything up that you'd like.

If you don't have a bar at your place then just tell her you want to watch a movie while suggesting the two of you head back to your place. Most girls know what "watching a movie" means but as long as it's not obvious that you're going to try to have sex with her then she can feel like it "just happened." This is called "plausible deniability." After you get her to your room, the rest of the work is up to you. This should be very easy to pull off since most Asian girls (yes, even the good girls) will have sex with you if you get them alone. All you have to do is have her sit next to you or wrap your arms around you from behind while standing up.

The beauty of this is that she will feel a connection with you after she's been on a date or two with you and has had sex. If the girl you're with is truly a good girl, she won't try to move in with you the next day, but she will be on the hook for sure and it's smooth sailing from there. At this point, just don't mess it up and there you go! You now have all of the steps to go out there make it happen for you.

So there you have it. This is how you pull it off with a good girl to get them to fuck you and continually date you.
